DEATHS.

MILT GARRISON died Saturday at John Garrison's in the southwestern part of the county. We failed to learn full particulars.

MRS. MARGARET HENLEY, sister of Thos. Redman of this city, died at her home in Madison, Mo., on July 27th, after a short illness, aged 70 years. Her remains were laid to rest in the Madison cemetery. She was a splendid lady and lived a consistent Christian life.

CLAUDE ALLEN MORTON died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morton, of West Boyd, Wednesday, August 4, 1909, of whooping cough, aged 1 year and 10 months. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 8 p. m., by Rev. Clinton Senneff after which the child's remains were taken to Nelson for burial. The parents have the community's sympathy.

WM. H. GUTHREY died at the home of his uncle, A. M. Guthrey, on Eastwood Ave., on Saturday, July 31st, aged 44 years, 10 months and 16 days. Death was caused by locomotor ataxia. The funeral occurred Sunday at 1 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. E. McDonald after which his remains were taken to Mt. Carmel cemetery north of town.

MARY MASON EHRNMAN, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ehrnman, died at their home in College addition Monday morning after a three weeks' illness of whooping cough and inflammation of the bowels. The remains were laid to rest in Ridge Park cemetery after services at the residence conducted by Elder B. T. Wharton Tuesday evening. The loss of their little child is a severe blow to the parents, to whom we extend heartfelt sympathy.

JOSEPH CABLE, of Blackburn, died at the home of his daughter in Guthrie, Okla., July 31st and his remains sent to Blackburn and laid to rest in the cemetery Tuesday of this week. Particulars next week.

FRANK DICKERSON died at his home at Grand Pass Saturday, July 31st, aged 57 years, after an illness of many months of a complication of ailments.

His funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church by Rev. Scott on Sunday afternoon. Every word he spoke was in sympathy with the heart-broken mother and relatives and one of the high tributes he gave to the memory of the young man was, "He was good to his mother—a dutiful son."

Mr. Dickerson had every care of his relatives and his sister, Mrs. S. Allen, of Malta Bend, assisted in caring for his welfare. But God knows best, though the bereaved mother, sisters and brothers cannot see beyond the vale of tears. But some bright day they will know why this tie was broken. How good God is to us, so that after all our trials here, He will give us a home in the celestial shore. So mother, brothers and sisters be faithful. God will give you a meeting some day. R.

SAM WILLIAMS, col., was found dead early Monday morning, July 26th, at his home in East Marshall, having died of heart failure. He was 75 years old and had been ailing from heart failure for some time. His remains were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon at Fairview cemetery after services conducted by his pastor, Rev. Isaac Mills. He leaves two sons, Theodore, of St. Louis, and one in Kansas City.

Next Thursday is the date of the Little Rock picnic. We have been unable to find many of our readers in that part of the county this year and hope they will favor us with their renewal at the picnic. We will also be at the Cretcher picnic for the same purpose.

The Thursday Storm

Thursday afternoon and again at night Saline was visited by a heavy wind and electrical storm last week. Ham Jackson, of near Blackburn, had a mule killed by lightning that night.

A wheat stock belonging to Ed Stoll near Blackburn was struck by lightning and burned Thursday night.

Mr. Dierking's barn near Alma, was burned in the same manner Thursday night.

One of the narrowest escapes during the storm Thursday night was by Chas. Barr, west of town. Lightning struck his house, wrecked his telephone burnt some bedding and clothing and left a red mark on Mr. Barr's forehead as well as rendering him unconscious for a short time.

Martin Bergman, a prominent farmer of near Concordia, was killed by lightning during Thursday's storm.

During the storm Thursday J. M. Ramsey, the contractor of McAllister Springs, had a very narrow escape. He was working on a scaffold on John McGuire's new residence at Sweet Springs when lightning struck on both sides—Mrs. Bowman's residence and Mrs. Snks barn—and when he came to he found himself on the ground. He says he was in a direct line between the two places struck, which were both very close by, and must have received a shock. We were glad that he had an opportunity to renew Saturday!

Smith Bros. of near Blackburn, Thursday night lost a mule by lightning.

Henry Jacoby, of south of town, had a fine steer killed by lightning in Thursday's storm. John Buck, near by, lost a hay stack which was set afire by lightning. The old high school building was struck by lightning Thursday and slightly damaged.

J. B. McFadden, of Malta Bend, had a fine cow killed by lightning Thursday night.

Dr. H. H. Morris' residence on East Arrow was struck by lightning Thursday night. No damage resulted fortunately besides knocking off some plastering.

W. A. Smiley was here from Wamaker Tuesday and reported that lightning Thursday killed a team of gray mares for C. M. Bacon, south of Wannamaker. Also a horse belonging to C. M. Thomas

Church Notes.

Rev. T. J. Claggett and family have moved to their new home in Cheatham, Ill., where Mr. Claggett has accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian church.

ST. LOUIS LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special to Marshall Republican

National Stock Yards, Ill., Aug. 3.

Cattle receipts today 5000. Trade fully steady with yesterday. Supplies only moderate during the past week, and choice cattle, or those good enough to sell above $6.50, have advanced 15 to 25c per cwt., while medium kinds and cow and heifers have declined 10 to 15c. We have predicted this widening in the range of values for some time. There is little prospect of increased receipts of choice stuff, hence we look for strong markets for that kind, the medium grades must go lower in competition with grasser. Prime yearlings are most sought at present, and would sell as high as $7.50. Stockers and feeders fully steady with a week ago. Veal calves also steady. Top $7.50.

Hog receipts 5000; quality only fair. Market 5 to 10c lower than yesterday, and most of the hogs showed the maximum decline. Top $7.00; bulk of all the hogs $7.45 to $7.75. Packers are making a determined effort to get hogs down to a lower basis, and only moderate receipts will prevent them from doing so. We advise unloading any good fat hogs on the first little spurt in the market.

Sheep receipts 8500; trade active and strong on good sheep and lambs, bulk of the good lambs today $6.25 to $7.00; top $7.10. Top mutton sheep $1.75, all good ones sold above $1.50. Fair to medium killing sheep and lambs are 25c lower than yesterday. We expect little or no change in sheep prices the rest of this week, and believe it good policy to keep the good ones coming.

Fletcher's Store Sold

W. H. Fletcher, one of Marshall's oldest merchants, traded his big stock of dry goods, carpets, trunks, etc., to James H. Bunce, of Sheldon, Mo., for a 960 acre farm, paying a cash difference. Mr. Bunce took possession at once. The Marshall end of the big deal was engineered by L. C. Gaunt and W. T. Burroughs and Mr. Bunce was represented by W. S. Hale & Co., of Nevada, and W. F. Howard of East Lyons.

We are glad to say that Mr. Fletcher and wife will continue to reside in Marshall. We welcome Mr. Bunce to our city and hope he will make a big success of his venture.

Heuman-Janneck

On last Thursday evening, July 29th, Henry Heuman and Miss Katherine Janneck surprised their many friends by driving to Nelson and being married by Rev. E. T. Raney, pastor of the Methodist church. After the ceremony they returned to the bride's home where a bountiful supper was prepared for them. The nearest relatives and a few estimated friends were only invited to attend the wedding.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Janneck, from one of Saline's best families and is loved not alone for her pleasing personality but also through her winsome manner and rare culture and refinement. Her friends in this county offer Mr. Heuman their hearty congratulations upon his good fortune in winning so charming a bride. The groom is a handsome young man and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Heuman and has a fine farm two miles southeast of Arrow Rock where he and his bride will reside in the near future.

Sweet Spring, Chautauqua

The editor had the pleasure of spending several days last week at the Sweet Springs Chautauqua and was much gratified to see the people of that thriving town working hand-in-hand for its success, for it was remarkably so considering conditions. As is usually the case, it is easy to see where mistakes have been made after a thing is over and it applies to this case.

Sweet Springs has more natural advantages than any town in the state and of course should have had the biggest chautauqua. The time selected this year was unfortunately too soon and as a result the farmers were unable to attend. A good many women and children from the country were there but "papa stayed at home."

The commodious hotel splendid grounds and large hall are ideal to say nothing of the fine water and boating and ought to have attracted thousands of persons from a distance. The hotel was ably managed by Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Arnold, but the public seemed unaware that it existed. There were also but few tents on the grounds. The program was fine and well worth the price of admission and time. The local management was also above reproach and the secretary, V. O. Beatty, deserves the city's thanks for his efficient services. Next year's chautauqua promises great things for Sweet Springs.

Big Land Company at Sweet Springs

The Saline County Land and Investment Company was organized in Sweet Springs several months ago and last week received its incorporation paper. The company has a capital stock of $100,000, half paid up and is composed of very strong names. The officers are Geo. W. Smith, president; Herman Renken, vice-president; Chas. K. Smith, treasurer; Geo. M. Smith, secretary; John H. McGuire, manager.

A substantial building is being erected for offices by the company, but in the meantime the business office will be in the Smith Lumber Co. office.

The members of this new company are all well known in and around Sweet Springs and are prominent in financial and business circles. They have ample capital to work to a good advantage.

The manager, John H. McGuire, has had remarkable success as a real estate man and his sales have been the biggest made in the county the past several years. His enterprise and ability have been proven and are evidence that the company will be a success financially and a benefit to the community. We wish them success.

Lost Their Baby

Little Mary Anette, the baby daughter of Andy Hayob and wife, died Tuesday, July 20 at 6 a. m., at their home about four and one-half miles west of Marshall, after a brief but severe illness of stomach trouble.

The conditions of the child were thought to be improving the latter part of the week, but a change for the worse came during the night before her death. The devoted mother and grand-mother never failed to help the little one until Tuesday morning when the Grim Reaper providently snapped the slender cord. But God doeth all things well and we should not murmur, but patiently wait the time when we will understand, and be comforted by Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me."

This death which has just now entered the household is a singularly sad one as it was the first one in the family cradle which is over half a century and in which the grand-mother was a baby.

The solemn service conducted by Father Jennings was comforting to the parents who are now so full of sorrow and grief at having to give up their darling baby, after her brief stay of nine months and twenty days, and who had always enjoyed joy and sunshine to them.

After the funeral services the body was tenderly laid to rest, which was the first link to bind them to our beautiful Ridge Park cemetery. Contributed.

New Postmaster at Nelson

J. R. Barron, who served the people of Nelson efficiently as postmaster for eleven years and ten months, Saturday turned the office over to his successor, T. M. Fowler, who is well and favorably known in and around Nelson and will give his patrons good service.

Mr. Barron resigned because he thought his health demands a change and will temporarily write life insurance. He will move to Marshall to reside in a short time. He says the people of Nelson treated him fine and he regrets very much to leave them.

LOCALS.

County court is in session this week.

Judge Samuel Davis held court in Lexington this week.

A. J. McRoberts was here from the Plains Tuesday.

Mrs. C. A. Knight is in LaBelle, Mo., the guest of relatives.

Fred Bierbaum and Chas. Keyton were here from near Arrow Rock yesterday.

Miss Mary Kingsley, of Sedalia, was the guest of Mrs. T. T. Huff, last week.

Will C. Terrell, of Wharton, Texas, came in Tuesday for a several weeks' visit to relatives.

Mrs. S. J. Johnson, of south of Gilliam, is the guest of her son, R. D. Johnson, deputy circuit clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Loomis, of St. Louis, came up Sunday to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sanger.

Miss Jennie Ransberger and daughter expect to leave Monday for a few weeks sojourn in Colorado.

Mrs. W. F. Updyke and daughter, Miss Anna, of Alma are the guests of Mesdames Edw. Zahn and J. E. Blackburn.
